I'M IN TOWN TO PULL OFF A BIG JOB!

The merchant who sends for me, knows that he might as well kiss his profits "Good Bye." The merchant who places his stock in my hands gives me unlimited power to sell for whatever price I can get. I tell him that I know how to get the people's attention. But I do not know how to fool the people and do not want to know. I've come to Danville to pull off a big job. I've been engaged by Mr. Louis Silverman to turn his stock into cash. I've been given fourteen days to do the job and I'll begin the sale Saturday morning at 8:30 promptly

Do not buy anything until we start our greatest sale Saturday June 3rd. You're looking for the lowest prices—We understand all that—and that's the reason we will give you the greatest and most attractive money saving buying opportunities that this town has ever known. See tomorrow morning's and Friday afternoon two-page ad. in the paper.

MY NAME IS GOODMAN—I'm a Sales Conductor. I'm not a Magician, but I can turn merchandise into cash and save the buying public money and help keep the men at work.

PROGRAM OF THE WHITMELL FARM SCHOOLS FINALS

On June 4, at 3:30 p. m., Rev. J. W. Latham will deliver the commencement sermon to students of Whitmell Farm Life School. Miss Audrey Myers, a former student of the school, will sing.

On June 5, at 7 p. m., there will be an exhibition of the school work. This exhibit represents the classroom work of the year, and each patron is urged to see his child's work in comparison with the results of the year. At 8 o'clock the regular program begins in school auditorium under auspices of Whitmell Farmers' Club. The speaker of the evening will be Joseph Hurt, director of vice-president of Tobacco Growers' Association. The school will present briefly a "Synopsis of Session 1931-22," including a presentation in pageant form of the findings of Whitmell Community Survey.

The closing program is on June 6. The faculty will give the usual banquet to seniors, alumni and school board at six o'clock. The planting of the class tree will be at seven o'clock. At eight o'clock will be presented an original pageant, "The Making of a Citizen." This pageant is based on the two big ideals of the school, "Citizenship" and "Best for Country Life." Mrs. Ara Hart Avery is expected to be present and make a short talk on "Citizenship Service in the Country." The year's work will close with presentation of diplomas to the graduates and gift to the literary society that has been scored highest in public meetings, scholarship of its members and citizenship as determined by numbers of subscription to school paper, care of school property.

Every one is given a cordial invitation to attend these exercises.

Retail Merchants Table Resolutions Favoring Farmer

The members of the Retail Merchants' association to the number of 65, including one or two visitors, enjoyed an excellent dinner last night in the main dining room of the Hotel Burton and after dispatching the attractive menu, those present settled down to nearly three hours of oratory and discussion. Aside from electing R. C. Thompson of the shoe division to be the next president and to the vice president of the group, the did little else than to hear fourteen or fifteen talks, most of them extemporaneous, on a great variety of subjects which included the several phases of banking and its relation to the mercantile business, social service, advertising talks, protests against buying from out-of-town merchants, phases of the municipal government by a member of the council and the whole gamut of themes, with the single exception of woman.

The speakers in their order included James Eustard of the First National Bank, H. B. Trundle on the power of the association to small merchants, in which he insisted that credit was too cheap; J. N. Benton, of the First National Bank, on the co-operative movement; L. L. Kaufman, social service and city hosting by George P. Geoghegan, Jr.; W. R. Harrison, who covered a variety of themes; Jacob Silverman on the credit business and various other phases of the merchant problems; Rutledge Carmer, ex-president of the association, on foreign and unapproved advertising devices and schemes and the wisdom of curbing them.

President John J. Speer presided and had a long program which was further prolonged by a lengthy discussion of a resolution offered by I. Rosenstock expressing the sympathy of Danville merchants with the farmers' movement to derive better prices for their tobacco.

Mr. Rosenstock had been assigned a regular part of the program, his subject being: Tobacco, Pool, Advantages and Disadvantages to Danville. He regarded the subject as one of vital importance to the commercial interests of the city, and added that it was a subject which might be discussed from many angles, but he would adhere, he said, as closely as possible to the subject from a business standpoint. After some further introduction, Mr. Rosenstock asserted that thousands of farmers who feel and believe that in joining the co-operative movement they are doing, as they see it, that which will enable them to get larger returns for the product of their labor and thereby be better able to provide for their families and themselves. "Being neither farmers nor warehousemen, would it not be presumptuous for us—at least, it seems so to me—to judge or question the motives of these men, for if they are right or they are wrong? I say 'No,' most emphatically no, but on the contrary we should hold out the hand of encouragement and keep in mind that these very farmers who now look to us for moral support have been largely the mainstay of the commercial life of the city." Mr. Rosenstock favored the broadest publicity among farmers to a statement of our sincere support. He favored telling the farmers that Danville stands ready to give 100 per cent. assistance to this of any movement that is good for the farmer.

The speaker closed by offering the following resolution:

"Resolved 1.—That it is the sense of this meeting that the merchants of Danville, actuated by motives that they believe mutually beneficial, to the farmers and to our city, do hereby go on record as follows:

"That they are keenly alive to the hardships and uncertainties of tobacco raising, and recognizing this, that if the farmer believes that in joining the co-operative movement he will benefit his condition, that we not only sympathize with him in this effort to help himself, but we also wish him God-speed in his efforts and a hearty hand towards any movement that spells success for the farmer."

"Be it furthermore resolved: That since rumors have gone abroad, that Danville merchants, were not in sympathy with the farmers in this movement, and in order to give wide contradiction to these rumors which are as false as they are malicious, that this resolution be published not only in our local papers, but also in the press of Chatham, South Boston, Reidsville, Yanceyville, Leaksville, Spray, and Martinsville."

After a prolonged discussion of the resolutions, L. L. Kaufman offered a substitute to the several groups of merchants comprised in the association. Finally when everybody was consulting watches and many were slipping out, the original resolutions and the substitute lie on the table. On a viva voce vote, no dissent was audible, despite the almost even alignment of speakers, pro and contra.

Dr. J. H. Barnhardt Speaker At R. M. I. Commencement

With a wealth of material such as is rarely gathered together on a single occasion, Randolph Macon Institute ended the session of 1931-22 last night, its graduation program, which was interesting and diversified, was calculated to appeal to as many senses as the audience possessed, and the general regret was that there was not "more of it."

The piano quartette by Misses Witcher, Johnson, Thomas and Ferguson, was beautifully rendered and brought appropriate applause. The succeeding numbers were received with equal enthusiasm and each was given in its turn the hearty plaudits of a well-filled house.

Dr. J. H. Barnhardt, well known in Southern Methodism, was the speaker of the evening. From the time he rose to acknowledge the introduction, given him by Mr. Charles G. Evans, until he was again in his seat there was no doubt as to the tense interest of the audience in his address. He chose as the subject of his address, "You're not there until you get there." Beginning with a series of humorous remarks he quickly broadened and deepened into another vein that showed the real character of his task is performed. He then spoke of life and character and how all is the logical development of something which precedes it.

He spoke of the threefold phases of life, its joys and its responsibilities, of the problems of the modern home, and the need of true as opposed to artificial education. He stressed service, high ideals and a determination to "get there" through all obstacles.

A violin selection followed by Mr. White and a piano rendition of Danse Negre by Miss Gentry completed the program of the evening.

Mr. Charles G. Evans, principal, announced the honors for the year and awarded certificates and diplomas.

The program and class roll follow:

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, itchy skin, and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. We prove it. You can prove it. When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it can't come from the outside.

Look S. S. Give You An Angles Blood sense to simply treat the skin. A bottle of S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S. S. is a scientific blood cleanser. It drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, itching, and eruptions. When these impurities are driven out, you can't step several very nice things from happening. Your skin turns naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a young man, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S. S. is also a powerful body-builder, because it builds new and more blood cells. That's why it fills out sunken cheeks, bony necks, thin limbs, helps regain lost flesh. It costs little to have this happen to you. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

YANCEY-MITCHELL

A social event of great interest to Whitmell community took place Saturday evening, May 27, at 8:30 when Miss Annie Mae Mitchell became the bride of M. W. Yancey. The ceremony was performed on the porch of the bride's home, which was attractively decorated with laurel and lighted with Japanese lanterns. Miss Audrey Myers, of Lynchburg, sang softly and sweetly "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Early Payne.

Just as the wedding march was played, Miss Esther Mitchell, sister of the bride, appeared as maid of honor. She wore pink and carried pink roses. Rupert Mitchell was best man. The bride was beautifully gown in white, veil caught with liars in the valley. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. Wilson, of Danville.

Immediately after the ceremony, congratulations were received in the parlor. After waiting away many pleasant moments together, the guests were ushered to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served. The cutting of the bride's cake caused much merriment.

Miss Mitchell is a daughter of Mr. James Mitchell, of Whitmell. She is a charming young lady and will be greatly missed in her home community. Mr. Yancey is a son of Dr. J. R. Wilson, of Harrisonburg, and is a most promising young business man. They were married Saturday evening for Lynchburg, Harrisonburg, and Washington.

They will make their future home at Edenton, N. C., where Mr. Yancey has a lucrative position. Numerous and beautiful gifts attested the popularity of the couple.

BRAGG NAMED DESK SERGEANT

At a meeting of the Police Commission yesterday afternoon Edgar P. Bragg was elected night desk sergeant to succeed H. L. Drumwright, who resigned about three weeks ago. Bragg was formerly with the Womack Shoe Co., is a young man and the selection of him for the position is considered an excellent one. Mr. Bragg will begin his duties June 1.

LYNCHBURG WINS GOLF TOURNAMENT

The Hill City team of golfers won the Appalachian League meet at Lynchburg yesterday with the Charlottesville team second. Danville trailed the five clubs that entered. The score follows:

Lynchburg 481; Charlottesville 485; Lexington 510; Roanoke 530; Danville 537.

E. L. Gibbons, of Washington and Lee University, won the individual cup in medal play with a score of 14 over a course he had never seen before. This score is considered remarkable.

CLASS NIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

The annual Class Night of the senior class of the Danville high school will be held tonight at the high school auditorium. The program for the evening includes a number of unusual events, the awarding of monograms to the members of the various athletic teams, the presentation of various awards.

Tomorrow night the final exercises will be held with J. N. Hillman, of Richmond, secretary of the State Board of Education, scheduled to make the address to the graduates. Diplomas will be awarded and honors and winners of scholarships announced.

BOOTH-SMITHERS

A marriage of interest to the friends of the young couple in their community was solemnized in this city last Saturday afternoon when Miss Annie Smithers became the bride of Elton J. Booth. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the Rev. J. Clyde Holland on North Main street in the presence of a few friends of the young couple who are held in high esteem by their friends. Those attending the ceremony were Mrs. E. Trent, Mrs. T. O. Carter, Miss Mary Moore and "Billy" Hall. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Booth returned to Reidsville, their home.

COLORED PREACHER DEAD

H. H. Fountain, a well-known colored minister, aged 77 years, died on May 25, the funeral services being conducted at Oak Grove Baptist church, of which he was a member, by the Rev. K. E. Logan. He was buried in the church cemetery. He is survived by four children.

DISTRICT SCHOOLS CLOSED; COMMUNITY LEAGUES BUSY

Although the elementary schools of the Tunstall District are closed for the season, the community leagues are still busy planning and working for the good of the schools and communities.

Monday night the league at Stokesland had its regular meeting. Miss Taylor's report of the last meeting showed that eleven subscriptions had been taken for the "Community News," and that the purchase of a $40 library had been authorized. At the meeting last night a committee was appointed to select these books, guardians of the school property were elected, and plans for making the school board at their next session were arranged for.

Last Saturday night the league at Withers had its regular meeting. Mrs. Roach had prepared a delightful program of dialog, song and recitation. Mr. Cousins, president of the Young Men's Business Club, was the speaker of the evening and his address on the importance of recreation was received with favor. An interesting feature of the meeting was a school song delightfully original and especially appropriate to the present ambitions of the school. This school has a very active junior league with Miss Lizzie Emerson as president. Through the activity of the league a Sunday school is being maintained this summer.

Sunday afternoon there was a meeting at Sharon in connection with the Rural Life Campaign in progress in all parts of the State. The speakers of the occasion were Messrs. Shepherd and Williams from Chatham and Dr. Tucker, rector of Epiphany church, Danville. Strong addresses were given by all.

FPNERAL OF MISS ROBINSON

The remains of Miss Gwendolyn Robinson, of Salisbury, N. C., who died here suddenly while on a visit to her friends, were removed yesterday morning to the railway station and placed on a southbound train, accompanied by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson and a committee of the alumni of the Danville General Hospital. General nurses were at the station. Mrs. Robinson was a graduate in the 1920 class and was a member of the Alumnae Society. She came here about two weeks ago on a visit when she was overcome with a heart affection.

She had numerous friends in Danville and at the hospital where she entered as a student nurse and remained some time after graduating. Three sisters, also, Mrs. Chase of Roanoke, Mrs. McCubbins, of Washington, and Mrs. Bassett, of Salisbury. The funeral will be held in Salisbury this afternoon, and will be attended by Miss Agnes Mills and Miss Marie Hedges, of the Danville General Hospital.

—Mrs. R. H. Woodfolk, of Richmond, Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. Crews, 212 Jefferson avenue.

—Howard Furgerson, returned to his home on Durham yesterday morning, after a visit to his parents here.

DEATH OF MRS. C. W. WHITE

The many friends of Mrs. C. W. White will be grieved to learn of her untimely death yesterday at 3 p. m. at the home of her mother, Mrs. Alice Barnes, on Mr. Vernon Ave. Mrs. White, who was before marriage, Miss Dr. B. Motley, was greatly respected for her traits of character. She had many fine qualities of both head and heart, and will be greatly missed in the circle with which she moved. She was a consistent member of Main Street M. E. church, and also took active part in the King's Daughters, and the Danville chapter, U. D. C.

Deceased is survived by her husband and by one daughter, Alice E. White, her mother Mrs. Alice E. Barnes and the following brothers and sisters: Robert L. Motley, Richmond, Va.; Eugene Barnes, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Ruth Grace and Claude Barnes, of this city. Arrangements of the funeral will be made later.

Liquor Car Is Captured After Exciting Chase

Federal Agent Chamberlain and State Agents Shelton and Smith had an exciting time of it yesterday in addition to capturing a large still in the vicinity of Martinsville, when the party began a chase of rum-runners that lasted for several hours and which was finally brought to a finish by Deputy Sheriff T. C. Oakes.

On the strength of information received the three officers set out for a point six miles west of Martinsville yesterday morning. On reaching the deserted point they found a 250-gallon still in a large shed that had been out on a log platform that spanned a creek. No one was at the place and after destroying the still and equipment, which was unusually large and complete, the officers started on their return trip.

About three miles east of Martinsville a Dodge touring car blew behind them as though it wanted to pass. However, when Officer Chamberlain leaned out of the Ford, in which he was riding, to see who it was that wanted to pass the driver of the other car changed his mind and decided to trail the officers for a while. Farther down the road the driver of the Dodge decided to blow to pass again and the Ford drew off to the side of the road. The Dodge went by at an accelerated speed. Chamberlain then recognized the three occupants of the car as rum-runners and gave chase.

The Ford was not equal to the chase and soon was far in the rear. But kept close enough to the fleeing car to allow the officers to get out at every branch or cross road and determine the direction the fleeing car was taking.

Some miles west of Brosville Chamberlain stopped in a farm house and phoned to Officers Pugh and Rice at Schoolfield of the car. Pugh and Rice started west in the road and headed the Dodge off, causing it to slide down into a side road that led into a body of woods. There the Schoolfield officers found the Dodge with three men standing around it. Two of the men ran as soon as they saw the car from Schoolfield. A third jumped into the Dodge, backed out of a difficult situation and dived by Pugh and Rice. Pugh, however, emptied his gun at the car in the hopes of puncturing the gas tank or one of the tires and he succeeded in putting one bullet through the top of the gas tank, but this did not stop the fleeing rum-runner.

The Schoolfield officers then phoned to Ben W. Dodson at Bachelor's Hall, who in turn phoned to Deputy Sheriff T. C. Oakes at Brosville.

The car was chased by Brosville and Oakes took up the chase, finally driving the rum-runner over an embankment, where the car turned over several times. The driver, however, escaped uninjured and made his getaway.

In the car was found a compartment in which there were 22 gallons of corn liquor and three water bottles, holding about one-half gallon each.

The car is being held by Deputy Sheriff T. C. Oakes and it will be decided today whether it will be taken over by the Federal or State authorities.

STEAMER ABLE TO RESCUE 18

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 30.—The shipping board steamer Sun Dance, following of Mayport tonight, awaiting a chance to dash across the frozen bar, has at last 18 survivors of craft unable to withstand the storm of the last 24 hours. Seven of these survivors were from the schooner Marian N. Cobb, which was aground today and was not expected to hold together throughout the night.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

The members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union both in the city and county are engaged in preparation for the coming county convention which meets at Concord church, near Chatham, June 1-5. The convention will be entertained by the Mary Russell Union. The ladies will devote their time and attention to the subjects of Christian citizenship and law enforcement. Considerable attention will be given to the arrangement and preparation for the State convention, which meets in this city in the latter part of September next.

MOTLEY-MCKENNEY

Lennie E. Motley and Miss Nellie McKenney were married last night at 8:30 o'clock at the home on North Main street by the Rev. V. G. Smith. The young couple were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Layne and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Tate. They will make their home in Danville.

—Miss Lightfoot Jordan, of South Boston, is the guest of Miss Mildred Hill.

VETERANS OF 3 WARS MARCH IN PARADE IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 30.—A score of parades in all five boroughs of New York City featured memorial day today. In Manhattan the principal event was the march of tens of thousands of veterans of three wars, along Riverside Drive to the tomb of General Grant. The memorial address was made by Governor Miller.

Of the marchers the ever thinning ranks of G. A. R. veterans received the greatest ovations. There were barely 500 of them in the ranks this year. Gaily decked automobiles crept alongside them, ready to give a lift to the filtering but not a man of the 500 cut step until all had passed the reviewing stand and the bugle told them to fall out.

General John F. O'Ryan, in the reviewing stand was accompanied by General Gassouin of the French army.

One fatality marred the ceremonies, the war engines claimed another victim and a name was added to the list of soldier heroes.

It happened in the midst of a procession. A light tractor, naval military for the moment by its pilot, slipped into gear and headed its ponderous bulk directly toward a crowd of women and children.

Julian Spratshend, 21, in uniform of the first battalion, naval military, leaped the tractor tank, brought to a halt and swung sharply toward another tractor and he was crushed between them.

"Red Mike," the Irish terrier mascot of the first battalion, naval military, brought a laugh that mingled with the tears of the day. Attired in the uniform of his outfit, he left it, walking on his hind legs. As he reached the stand he waved a right paw in salute to General O'Ryan.

During services at Grant's Tomb on Riverside Drive aeroplanes and hydroaeroplanes, one of them containing a little French girl, scattered flowers over the throngs in memory of American aviators killed in the French service.

At Washington-Heights army officers and civilians presided over the dedication of a memorial to soldiers, sailors and marines of the world war.

MATHILDE WILL HELP FATHER IN COURT BATTLE

CHICAGO, May 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mathilde McCormick came home from New York today to take sides with her father in what has threatened to grow into a court battle over her marriage to Max Oser, Swiss riding master.

Miss McCormick tonight was planning to appear in probate court tomorrow and tell Judge Horner that she wants her father, Harold F. McCormick, millionaire head of the International Harvester Company, to be her guardian.

Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, who recently divorced Mr. McCormick on grounds of desertion, has obtained a court order re-opening the proceedings which she thought it had made Mr. McCormick Mathilde's guardian. At the time of the divorce, Mathilde chose to stay with her father and the guardianship proceedings were thought to clear away legal obstacles to her marriage to Oser.

Under the Swiss law it was explained, the consent of both parents or the legal guardian is necessary to the marriage of a minor. Mrs. McCormick was said to be unalterably opposed to the marriage, while Mr. McCormick was said to favor it as a last resort if it proved essential to his daughter's happiness. The objections of both were said to center in the disparity of ages between Oser, who was said to be at least 45 years old, and Mathilde, who is 17.

CHECKING UP ON STORIES IN CASE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 30.—West Chester county officials investigating the killing of Clarence Peters, former sailor, by Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, endeavored today to check up on the movements of the slain man at the United States Marine Corps training station at Parris Island, S. C., where it was reported, he tried to enlist but was rejected because of an unsatisfactory navy record.

Peters was supposed to have left Parris Island on May 12, three days before his death, but the actual time of his departure has not been established and the commandant, an officer at the station has been asked to supply the information.

NO ACTION TAKEN AS TO WALKOUT

HOUSTON, Texas, May 30.—(Associated Press.)—The convention of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, adjourned today until Monday without having taken action on the motion to authorize the president and secretary to prepare instructions for firemen to leave the service in even the rail labor board should hand down a decision reducing their wages.

The motion, it was said, apparently looks to the future in suggesting that general chairman prepare in advance instruction blanks, leaving blank the date for a walk-out, the date suggested being the time that any wage cut should become effective. The motion was referred to the committee on the protective department.

It was understood that the committee has not reported to the convention. Brotherhood officials have indicated they are aware that discussion of firemen's wages by the labor board will not be taken up for several months. The motion stated, however, that the "majority of the members of the board are determined to cut our wages."

GEORGE W. ALLEN DIES

KEY WEST, Fla., May 30.—George W. Allen, 67, president of the First National Bank of Key West and prominent in Republican politics in this State, died at his home here tonight following an illness of several months.

Mr. Allen was the Republican candidate for governor in 1916 at the time Sidney J. Catts ran and won on an independent ticket. For 16 years he was collector of customs at this port. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

BOTTOMLEY CONVICTED AT LAST

A conviction of Horatio Bottomley, a London, of misappropriation of funds and his sentence to serve seven years penal servitude will remove from the public life an arch enemy of the country and a man who has done much to bring about popular misunderstanding between the two branches of the Anglo-Saxon race. It is true that he has taken an appeal. That does not mean in Great Britain what it means in this country. Unless there has been some flagrant miscarriage of justice he will go to Dartmoor, the great penal colony. There will not be long delays nor will his great wealth stand between him and the exactment of penalty.

Bottomley is an extraordinary man, one who was deemed dangerous, for he was unscrupulous stopping at nothing to lash those he did not like through his widely-circulated "John Bull," which appears weekly and which at one time ran to two million copies each week. He no longer owns the paper but as long as he was editor he took delight in dishing out scandal and his boldness in scurrilous attacks on men and women in high places brought him an audience which revelled in his audacity. He was a demagogue of the purest type, had certain qualifications of leadership which won him a seat in the House of Commons—not as the representative of either the conservative or the liberal parties which refused to own him but as an independent. For years he had been an arch-enemy to the United States. He used his paper very much in the same way that Hearst uses his publications, to vent his wrath against Britain impugning motives, sowing the seeds of suspicion and preying upon that section of the British public dependent on what it reads and hears of America to form its opinions. His cartoons were aimed especially towards destroying a natural good feeling between the two countries, and during the war he took especial delight in minimizing America's role in the struggle and misrepresenting its motives. People who have followed the strange career of this man will readily understand the distinct service which a jury of 12 has performed. Bottomley can never survive the inhumanity of penal servitude and his hold on his credulous public will be broken, seeing that he is discredited. His offense was one calculated to cause the very people who championed him to turn on him with anger. He was charged with robbing the poor of savings which they entrusted to his Victory Bond Club.

Bottomley was a lawyer once. He was charged with embezzlement and face a jury in Old Bailey. It was not the first time he had been in muddy waters and the Crown sought his conviction by arraying against him well-known counsel. Horatio conducted his own case and won. This immediately gave him prestige among a class of people who were amazed at the ability of a lay lawyer and from that time on he became a potent figure in politics. His paper, through which he maintained his position as a political power, grew with leaps and bounds. He dabbled in stocks successfully and finally found his way to Parliament where he was a conspicuous figure for years. His seat automatically became vacant with his conviction and there is little doubt that his public career is at an end.

 But always ere now he had fortified and shriven her conscience with the belief that they were of one mind, it must and would be Reno first.

Now Reno no longer held forth any promise of salvation, of the law's sanction, the church's countenance. Today and henceforward it must be all for love or nothing—a break final and irreparable.

And for all the shock she had suffered, for all the wrong Lynn had done and the pain of which his ill-faith had been the cause, the love she had given him still was there, dear, dangerously sweet and disarming. Already she was aware of anxiety to grasp at excuses for him, to comfort the ache in her heart with the thought that she was according charity to a dear transgressor, already she felt her strength resist being sapped, flesh and spirit succumbing anew to the spell he knew too well how to weave.

The scales hung long in trembling. They turned only when Summerlad, unwisely, losing patience, sought to take by storm the lips she had not yet made up her mind to surrender, and thus aroused resistance till then dormant.

With an ease that in a queer, detached way she found surprising, she managed to break his embrace. Nevertheless the effort left her faint. She faltered to the fireplace and rested a hand on the mantel, her forehead upon the hand. Lynn followed, stood by her side. Over and over she murmured gently: "Linda, Linda, Linda..."

Shaking from head to foot, she made a feeble sign of appeal. He disregarded the sign, and would have drawn her to him but that, of a sudden, her mind caught at a straw of memory, she drew away, with a hand upon his bosom put him firmly from her, eyes that were melting none the less denying him, lips that were a quiver with "Yes" resolutely pronouncing "No!"

"You are cruel..."
 "No, Lynn. Wait. Tell me some thing. You say she—your wife agreed to divorce you?"
 "I made her promise," Summerlad asserted grimly.

"When was that? The day she disappeared?" The day I found her lying senseless in her room?"
 "I suppose so. Well, then—yes."
 "Did you have much of a scene?"
 "I'll say it was some stormy young session."

"Is that why you found it necessary to strike her?"
 Summerlad started. "What? Strike her? What do you mean?"
 But his eyes winced from her importunate regard.

"She—Nelly had a bruise on her cheek, that afternoon; and it wasn't an old bruise, Lynn, you struck her!"
 "Perhaps. Maybe I did forget myself, I don't remember. What if I did?" She asked for it, didn't she? I'd have half killed her if she'd stuck to her refusal to go back east!"

Realizing that his tongue was again running away with his discretion, he curbed it sharply.
 She started back in repulsion, but he overtook her in the middle of the room and again crushed her to him.

"Linda, Linda! what do these things matter? I love you, dearest, you love me, nothing else matters. For God's sake be kind to me! Let's forget!"

The fury of her antagonism found him unprepared. Once more his arms were empty. And this time when he started in pursuit, some thing he couldn't see struck him brutally in the chest and threw him back. In the same instant he heard a heavy, crashing noise he couldn't account for. An inhuman sound. It shook the room, beat deafeningly upon one's ears. As if someone had overturned a heavy piece of furniture.

He heard a voice crying out again and again, "Bel! Bel! Bel!"

Her own voice... and for a long time hung in dread upon the issue of that swaying combat while Bel clung to the woman's arm, muttering and panting in futile efforts to wrest her weapon away, while Nelly claved, bit, kicked, pounded her free fist repeatedly into Bel's spinning, toppling, beating the air with aimless arms, pitching to the floor like something blasted, resplendent in a sickening, brutal, crumple, and was keenly aware of the acid reek of ammonia from the acid cut, the pungent odor of the roses that dressed the room in her honor, and all the while was conscious of the pistol noising in between the draperies like an animate thing of infinite malice, and the pallid oval of the face behind it, that seemed to float in the dark as might the mask of some mad ghost.

As the din of those three shots lost weight and volume, a thin shuffling became audible from some point outside the house and Nelly Marquise, with the sweep of a fury, her eyes burning like black opals, broke through the hangings at the window, and pulled up with pistol leveled point-blank at Lucinda's breast.

A single thought persisted: Another instant and I shall be as Lynn...

Then abruptly through the window a dark and heavy body hurled and fastened upon the woman's back, swinging her aside, the pistol plunged into the wall close by Lucinda's head.

She heard a voice crying out again and again, "Bel! Bel! Bel!"

Her own voice... and for a long time hung in dread upon the issue of that swaying combat while Bel clung to the woman's arm, muttering and panting in futile efforts to wrest her weapon away, while Nelly claved, bit, kicked, pounded her free fist repeatedly into Bel's

TRUCK CRANKED IN REVERSE KILLS ONE; HURTS MANY

ATLANTA, Ga., May 30.—Victor Cohen, 24, a clerk was fatally injured and five other persons, including his father, A. Cohen, 50, suffered injuries here tonight when struck by an automobile which had been cranked while in reverse gear.

Young Cohen died shortly before midnight.

The accident occurred while the streets were crowded with spectators who had been viewing the romance of the rose, a street race held in connection with the "progress" and properly week celebration. Witnesses said that only the fact that the machine struck a telephone pole saved scores of persons from being knocked down.

Five persons, including Cohen's father, were injured. The car passed over his legs and physicians said his condition was critical. Brecker was taken to police station and later released, $1,000 bail pending an investigation.

Howard Mobley, six years old, was the only person whose injuries were thought to be possibly fatal.

STREET CAR RUNS AWAY

PITTSBURGH, May 30.—Four men in a street car were injured when the car ran away from the tracks and struck a building. The car was out of control for several minutes before it was stopped.

Walter S. Ward, confessed slayer of Clarence Peters, didn't seem to mind his detention in the White Plains (N.Y.) jail. He came out smiling when released on $50,000 bail.

face, and wrenched madly at her captive wrist.

Of a sudden, from her hand a spiteful tongue of fire licked out at Bel, his right arm failed back and fell useless, agony convulsed his features. Free, the woman bounded away and with a laugh of maniac glee swung the pistol to bear upon his head.

Without knowing what she did, Lucinda flung herself upon Nelly's arm and bore it down. With deflected muzzle the pistol exploded for the last time. Dropping it, Nelly turned on Lucinda and dealt with her as might a madwoman. Impressions grew confused beyond assortment of flopping wildly this way and that of hot breath beating into her face, of her bare flesh suffering a rain of cruel blows.

Thrown off without warning, how she couldn't guess, she felt herself reeling back, tripping, falling. Something struck the back of her head a stunning blow, and she knew flickering nausea while dense night like moving cloud on every hand closed in upon her.

Choking and coughing, she unclosed her eyes upon the vision of Bel's face. A hand holding a bottle of smelling salts dropped away from her nose. Bel saluted her reviving intelligence with an even growl: "You'll do now, I guess. Try to pull yourself together. No time to lose."

"My head aches..." She saw Bel in his shirt-sleeves, with the cuff turned back above his right elbow, the forearm rudely bandaged with torn linen on which a deep stain was spreading. "But Bel—your arm..."

"Hurts like hell. Bullet ploughed through the underside from wrist to elbow, nearly I'd be dead if you hadn't jumped for her."

"And I, if you hadn't come through the window when you did, Bel..."

Bel laughed shortly. "The excellent Mr. Summerlad's still breathing. That's all we can tell till the surgeon gets here."

"What became of—her?"
 "Got away clean, worse luck—ducked past me and through the window like a shot."

Summerlad lay where he had fallen, on the far side of that piece of furniture. His face, upturned to the staring light, was like a thing of sculptured ivory, expressionless and blanched. The shirt beneath the flowered dressing-gown was hideously blotched.

"You think... O Bel! do you really think he will live?"
 "No fear," Bel sneered. "He'll make a fool of many another woman before he's finished. My chauffeur will run you down to the hotel. I think he's trusted. Wish I felt sure of that Jap."

"Sure of him?"
 "Why do you suppose I'm hurrying you away? Do you want the papers to get hold of the fact that you were keeping an assassin with this actor when his wife caught you and shot him?"

Lucinda let her wrap fall. "If my relationship to Lynn is what you imply—then my place is here with him."

"Please yourself. But remember, the papers are going to make big capital out of this scandal in the movie colony. They've been itching for it for years, knowing it was bound to break out some day."

How long do you imagine it'll be before the reporters will ferret out the fact that Linda Lee is Mrs. Bellamy Bruce? Do you want to sit in the witness box and testify against that demented creature when she's tried for murder?"

"What you think..."
 "What the devil do you care what I think? If you aren't what people are going to say you are, what are you doing here alone with Summerlad, in his own home at night?"

"The Lontaines were coming to dinner, but..."
 "But," Bel snorted. "Oh all right, I'll give you the benefit of the doubt, if that'll induce you to clear out of this before it's too late. And it isn't as if you could do Summerlad any good by staying. His fate's all up to the surgeons. I'll keep you posted. I'll come and tell you what the surgeon says."

He bent with painful effort and lifted her wrap. She took it with a word, swung it round her shoulders, turned and left the room.

Saves Husband From Death Chair Four Times—And Fights On!

MRS. ROSENWASSER

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
 NEW YORK, May 31.—Undeclared in the very shadow of death, a young wife and mother has saved her husband from the electric chair four times.

Will she be able to do it again? She says "yes"—if her strength holds out.

She is the wife of Julius Rosenwasser, condemned for 15 years in killing an old grave-digger.

For more than a year she has been carrying on—almost single-handed—the fight to save him from the chair. Now she has an able ally in ex-Judge Leonard A. Sutin who is carrying out the legal end of the fight without thought of time or expense.

Julius is just a child in mind," says his wife. "I know, I lived with him."

Alenists support her contention. Dr. M. Mortimer Sherman, head of the psychopathic ward of Kings County hospital, says Rosenwasser is a moron whose mental development was arrested at the age of nine.

Mrs. Rosenwasser looked down tearfully at her boy who was six weeks old when his father went to prison. The youngster was playing in his bed-room on the kitchen floor.

Living in Two Rooms
 "We had to let out the bedroom to a lodger," Mrs. Rosenwasser explained almost apologetically. "So sorry and I am coming out in this room."

That is all there is to the "apartment"—the dingy kitchen and a small bedroom with a window on the fourth floor back.

"If I thought for an instant that Julius was guilty of the crime charged I wouldn't help him."

"But I know that he is innocent. I've checked her eyes and I'm convinced she's innocent. I've moved as if in prayer, I've moved as if in prayer, I've moved as if in prayer."

She said, "I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do."

She said, "I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do."

She said, "I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do."

She said, "I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do. I don't know what to do."

of metal cloth—silver, gold, or faded fur, with orchid, rose or other flowers. The lace may be in black or white or colored. It will surely fall in gracefully draped points and folds.

And the frills of the same style are made of more, too, and of chiffon and organdy.

All evening gowns are much longer than they have been, many of them coming down to one's very ankles. They make one look incredibly long, which, of course, is a step in the fashionable direction.

RIVALISM WILL COST
 THE CAPTAIN AN EYE

HOBOKEEN, N. J., May 30.—Rivalism in today's memorial day parade probably will cost Thomas Curry, captain of a grain barge, the loss of one eye. It was announced at a local hospital tonight Curry was struck in one eye by a rubber "cannon" ball weighing almost two pounds, which was "fired" from an imitation naval gun mounted on a float. He received other serious injuries when he was thrown to the street and trampled by boys who scurried after the rubber ball.

STAKE CLAIMS IN STREET
 LONDON, May 30.—The gold fever widespread as a result of gold discoveries in the western part of New South Wales, says a Reuters cable message from Melbourne, Australia, today. The discoveries were reported from Canbalego township, near Cobarr and in Lucknow township, near Orange. A portion of the main street in Canbalego has been pegged out, intense excitement following the finding in a street gutter of a stone showing signs of gold. In the wild rush for claims, prospectors have stacked out several shops, and even the Catholic Presbytery has been made the site of a claim.

Of What Value Are Movies To Nation's Youth?

CHICAGO, May 30.—Ten thousand dollars is to be spent in the next 12 months in an effort to determine just what value the motion picture has in the education of children.

It is claimed that the most extravagant promises have been made by enthusiasts for this means of imparting information to the young will detractors have classed the films as practically valueless. While the truth lies between these extremes, Dr. Frank N. Freeman of the University of Chicago will endeavor to learn.

Dr. Freeman, professor of educational philosophy and connected with the School of Education of the University of Chicago, has been granted $10,000 by the Commonwealth Fund of New York, an endowment founded for research work in various lines. Various sums are granted upon application, and after investigation discloses the worth of the object sought, and are for a period of one year. At the expiration of that time a report must be made on the results attained.

"There seem to be two general problems presented for solution," said Dr. Freeman. "One is to determine what can best be taught by means of pictures and to devise means of enlarging this field and the second is to devise means of enlarging this field and the second is to find ways of improving the pictures themselves."

"Some of the films in use in the schools are of a purely educational character but more of them are in the nature of literature in that they are partly entertainment. There are a few—biological and nature study pictures that might be classed strictly educational. There are also in this class the animated diagrams showing the circulation of the blood, nerve action, etc."

"Visual education, at present, is not systematized. The situation reminds of an enthusiastic friend who went to Mexico to take pictures. He shot everything in sight and when he got back he took a photograph of 'cut and paste' and got an understanding of the whole thing."

"Motion pictures will not spread over the whole curriculum but will be incorporated as a part of the school work. What is best to show is a matter of much study. Some subjects, of course, lend themselves very readily to the film, as the hatching of salmon and orange culture. Pictures of the various stages in these industries are, I think, readily understood by the children. 'Getting vicious experience' one man called it."

Kidney, Liver and Bladder Troubles CONQUER- ED or Money Back

For 40 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing Marsh-Rose for kidney, liver and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements for the leading druggists to dispense the wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffy eyes, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or side ache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777 right away.

It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney, liver and bladder troubles and is the medicine you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.

NOTE—Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great Prescription No. 777 aided thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective Prescription at all reliable pharmacies the country over. Keep in mind the name—Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777 (Liquid or Tablets). No other medicine can take its place.—adv.

HEALTH IS THE SECRET OF ATTRACTION

Women of today depend a good deal upon the modern modiste and a knowledge of the cosmetic art to make their faces attractive. The often exists beneath it all a suffering woman whose nervous laugh or forced smile covers a pang of agony caused by some feminine ill. To such a woman Lydia E. Pinkham's Vaginal Compound will bring health and a happy face. It is a medicine that will make her far more attractive than costly gowns and cosmetics.

For nearly fifty years American women have relied upon this root and herb medicine to relieve their ailments.—adv.

tures to show the child the proper way to do while another will be on the proper use of tools, the pictures being made in the school shops.

"Due to the lack of precise information on the film in the educational field," said Dr. Freeman, "films sometimes are much too long. Again they are too short. How much film a child can absorb is a matter for experiment. There is a gross lack of system, too, in the matter of captions. I have seen films that were more than 60 per cent captions. Is this the best length or should they be much shorter, or should there be no captions at all and such matter left to oral exposition after the manner of the illustrated lecture?"

"I am of the opinion that the film is not so far superior to other methods as to be substituted in a wholesale way but that it has its definite field and is excellently adapted to certain things seems beyond doubt."

Washington Sees Failure at Genoa

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Some of the reasons for the refusal of the United States to enter the Genoa Conference even though its locale was changed to The Hague, have been clarified by statements in high official quarters from which can be deduced the following facts:

The Administration believes that the continuance of policies toward Russia such as characterized discussions at Genoa would not only fail of bringing about a solution of the Russian problem, but would menace the welfare of the Russian people. The United States did not desire to take part in a program which this Government felt would mislead the world and build up false hopes in Russia. Every step leading up to the Conference and during its sessions tended to secure political recognition of the Soviet Government and to encourage the leaders to make impossible demands.

Soviet Loan Not Possible.

Officials here characterize recognition of Soviet Russia at present as impossible and the demand for a loan by the Soviet leaders as absurd. The reply of the Soviet leaders to the Allies indicated, either that they had been led to think such a loan possible or they believed they could strengthen their position by accepting it. It could not be obtained. Even if it were granted, it would be impossible to float such a loan, officials assert. The loan is the basic thing and Russia will get the loan only when she puts her house in order so that she can give actual security or the basis for it.

The attitude of the Soviet leaders is held to have erected a barrier to present negotiation.

When the invitation to participate in the conference at The Hague was received and studied, it indicated to officials here that the same line taken at the Genoa conference was resumed at The Hague, and the United States Government believed it would be a waste of time and effort to assist in the perpetuation of a line of action which would becloud the real issues and encourage the Soviet Government in standing out for the impossible. The Administration believes there is nothing to be gained by refusing to acknowledge a perfectly obvious situation. Here is the situation as the administration sees it: No nation which has the ability to do anything for Russia in a financial way is going to do it so long as Russia declines to meet her ordinary international obligations and is no individual or group of individuals is going to lend money unless it is simply guaranteed that the money is not going to be thrown away.

When it was stated by a high official that the United States was willing to join with other nations in a commission of inquiry regarding Russia it was flatly stated that this was for the benefit of other nations rather than for the United States, which has abundant information at its command. On the basis of that information, it holds that the true state of Russia ought to be well understood by others. To talk of political recognition before an understanding with regard to economic conditions is arrived at to put the cart before the horse is not the sort of treatment that Russia is in need of today.

Joseph I. Franco (R.) Senator from Maryland, out of tune with the administration policy, declares that the United States should send a commission to Russia, carry on negotiations, and if they are satisfactory, permit her to enter the money markets of the world to make a preferred loan in the nature of a receiver's certificate of from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

On the basis of that information, it holds that the true state of Russia ought to be well understood by others. To talk of political recognition before an understanding with regard to economic conditions is arrived at to put the cart before the horse is not the sort of treatment that Russia is in need of today.

Joseph I. Franco (R.) Senator from Maryland, out of tune with the administration policy, declares that the United States should send a commission to Russia, carry on negotiations, and if they are satisfactory, permit her to enter the money markets of the world to make a preferred loan in the nature of a receiver's certificate of from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

TWELVE TO START IN BALLOON RACE

MILWAUKEE, May 30.—(Associated Press.)—Twelve big bags, contestants for honors in the national balloon race starting from here tomorrow afternoon were filled tonight with thousands of cubic feet of gas and otherwise made ready for their flight. The destination of which depends entirely upon the whim of the wind. Indications were that the direction of the wind would be favorable from the west, with the prospects that the balloons would be carried towards the northeast.

Attracting the greatest interest among hundreds of spectators were the two bags to represent the United States in the race. They will be eligible for place honors because they are inflated with helium. This non-inflammable material has a greater lifting power than gas and will be used for time tomorrow in a free balloon race. In addition, one of the balloons will have a secret radio outfit recently developed.

Three army balloons also are in the race.

Lieutenant W. Freed of Pensacola, Florida, will be sixth in order of ascension.

DERBY WILL BE STAGED TODAY

LONDON, May 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tomorrow is Derby Day. Down will find assembled at Epsom Downs the largest and most picturesque taking of odds and tipsters who annually go early in order to avoid the rush of Dukes, dowagers, business men and costermongers who, in airplanes, automobiles, donkey carts or on foot arrive later to swell the attendance to hundreds of thousands for the greatest of England's turf classics.

The Derby, originally merely a horse race, long ago became an institution—perhaps England's most Democratic sporting institution. Not until sometime after three o'clock tomorrow afternoon will the time when the barrier is due to be raised, sending away some thirty of the choicest bits of horse flesh on this side of the water over the mile and a half course, will the people from the broker in his London office to the dockyard laborer in South Wales, lose their own interest for the race has divided most true Englishmen into two classes, those who have backed the winner and those who have not.

TILDEN ADDS ANOTHER TITLE TO LONG LIST

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—Wm. Tilden, 2nd U. S. tennis champion, added another to his long list of titles today by winning the championship of Philadelphia and the district from Wallace F. Johnson, the champion of the United States, in a five set battle. The score was 2-6, 6-5, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

BISHOP KILGO IMPROVED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 30.—Bishop John C. Kilgo of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, who is ill at his home here, is slightly improved tonight, his physicians stated and is holding his own. Temperature and respiration are normal although he is very weak.

Record Breaker

L. T. Brown of Dartmouth breaking the high jump record with a leap of 6 feet 4 5/8 inches at the intercollegiate meet at the Harvard Stadium.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—About 75 persons were taken place during the present outbreak of incendiarism in the city. The damage is estimated at $50,000. The O'Neil family is claiming $1,500 for the damage to their home.

JIMMY MURPHY WINNER OF INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Jimmy Murphy, from Los Angeles, California, winner of the 1921 French grand prix, carved his name deeper in the hall of motor fame today when he flashed across the track a winner of the Indianapolis speedway race at the Indianapolis speedway. He set a record breaking crowd of 100,000 spectators.

JIMMY MURPHY

Takes Second Place

HARRY HARTZ

Third In Race

EDDIE HEARNE

The Los Angeles driver made only three stops during the entire 500 miles. He made his first stop at 185 miles, to change all the tires and replenish the fuel tanks. With a lead of about ten miles, Murphy pulled into the pits for another tire change and for momentary rest. The assistance of 35 mechanics was nothing short of marvelous. It took them just 33 seconds to change a front tire and provide him with fuel enough to assure his finishing.

Harry Hartz, also of Los Angeles, finished second. He jumped into second place sixty miles from the start and held it throughout. His time was 5:20:54.55, an average of 93.84 miles per hour, which also was far in excess of the record. Eddie Hearne, a veteran racer, piloted a French car to third place in 5:22:26.06, for an average of 93.04 miles an hour, while Ralph DePalma, who also was in the race, finished fourth in 5:31:04.45, an average of 89.61 miles an hour.

Ora Haibe was fifth in 5:31:13.45, an average of 90.6 miles an hour. Jerry Wenderlich was sixth in 5:37:52.84, an average of 87.19 miles an hour. P. Peterson finished seventh in 5:40:27.14, an average of 87.99 miles an hour. Eighth place went to Ira Vaino in 5:50:07.42, an average of 85.89 miles an hour. Tom Allen was ninth in 6:07:34.12, an average of 83.89 miles an hour. He finished tenth in 6:05:11.47, for an average of 82.18 miles an hour.

The winner of the event, Murphy, received approximately $35,000. $20,000 was awarded first place and $15,000 as top prize money. In addition, automobile accessory companies provided cash prizes which will bring Murphy's total up to the $35,000 mark. Hartz got $10,000 for finishing second. Hearne in third place $5,000. Vaino in fourth place, $3,500. Waino, $3,000. Wenderlich, $2,200. Peterson, $1,500. Vail, $1,000. Alley, $500 and Thomas $1,400.

REIGN OF INCENDIARISM
BALTIMORE, May 30.—Edwin and Milton Gostorowski have the twin sons of Mrs. Philipine Gostorowski. One was lost yesterday. The police and even the mother were hard put for some time to determine just which of the twins was lost. The family had gone to a show on Colgate Creek. Returning, one of the twins remained on the car, and five minutes of traveling elapsed before his absence was discovered. Mrs. Gostorowski rushed to Eastern police station. She couldn't remember which one of the twins was lost. She hurried to ask the other one. After a two-hour search the police found Edwin. There was much rejoicing.

It wouldn't be the same...
"If every woman on the street should make a loaf of bread. They wouldn't be the same at all," The Master Baker said.
"Some loaves would burn and some would fall and some would not be good. Though each one used the self-same flour And did the best she could."

And there's no secret about making Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. We tell what we put in it. Other manufacturers know all the ingredients we use. They can buy most of them.

But they don't make Clicquot Club—any more than a woman with good flour and a recipe can make bread that tastes like her neighbor's bread made with the same flour and recipe.

Ask your grocer to send you a case of Clicquot Club. Keep a few bottles on ice or in a cold place. Serve it any time to anyone. They all like it.

ABBOTT DROPS THREE PLAYERS

Clarke, Megalls and Webb were given their releases last night by Manager Abbott. None of the men had measured up to expectations. Abbott stated last night that he was after another infielder and already had one spotted, whom he hoped to secure. He also said that he had another pitcher coming who would report in a few days.

Several other changes are pending and no change will be too drastic if it means the strengthening of the team, which has been woefully weak for the past two weeks.

PLEA IS OVERRULED

MACON, Ga., May 30.—Judge H. A. Matthews of Superior court announced late tonight that a plea in abatement in the case of Richard F. Willingham, has been overruled. This disposes of all preliminary matters and Willingham will go on trial on Monday on fourteen indictments charging larceny after trust, it is officially stated.

OFFICERS AWAIT WAGE CUT ORDER

DETROIT, Mich., May 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Grand officers of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees and railway shop laborers tonight were awaiting an official copy of the United States railroad labor board's order reducing wages of the union's members.

LOCUSTS CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE

NAPLES, May 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—Billions of locusts are destroying fields and gardens in the farming district six miles from this city. Within the past four days many acres of wheat, hops, clover and corn have been wiped out, and it is estimated that the pest are causing $20,000 damage daily.

Last year a few locust appeared and their eggs are now producing a scourge of insects which is covering the land in some places in masses a foot deep. The distracted population has implored the help of the government and measures are being taken to prevent the spread of the plague. The war stocks of asphyxiating gases and flame throwers have been hurried to the stricken locality.

WHAT PRICE WOULD YOU PAY TO GAIN GOAL?

Jack Zivic, his dislocated shoulder, and the difficulties of his operation illustrated. No 1 shows the circumflex nerve, near the incision, any injury to which would have paralyzed the arm. No 2 shows the capsule, from which a section torn apart three-fourths of an inch by his injury, was cut out, the new edges being sewn together. No 3 shows the main artery, bared and pulled out of the way during the operation.

BY BOB DORMAN
NEW YORK, May 31.—Jack Zivic's profession is prize-fighting. His ambition is to be lightweight champion. Maybe you don't admire his taste, but anyhow that's the job he cut out for himself—and that is why he has just let some surgeons cut him up! That's part of the price he has paid to gain his goal.

"I guess you've got to pay something for anything you want," says Zivic. He is only 18, but he represented America in his class at the last Olympic games. After his return from abroad, his shoulder was pulled out of joint in a basketball game. This injury apparently healed, but every time he fought the shoulder again came out of joint.

"You have to quit then ring," said his friends. "I won't," said Zivic, with grit. So a novel operation was decided upon by Dr. W. G. Fraleigh, whom he consulted. This operation was performed by Dr. Fraleigh and Dr. John H. Schell, assisted by Dr. F. H. Platt and Dr. F. B. Pierson.

"The operation would have been comparatively simple," says Dr. Fraleigh, "if we had been able to cut directly to the seat of the trouble. But this would have meant cutting parts of muscles which had to be kept intact if Zivic were to continue his ring career. So we had to adopt other methods."

The operation was successful. But Zivic must undergo days of pain in the hospital while the wounds are healing. Then it will take several months, with systematic exercise, to restore the arm to full usefulness.

Would you undergo as much rather than turn aside from a chosen career?

WINSTON SALEM BLANKS GREENBORO IN MORNING

WINSTON-SALEM, May 30.—Winston's four run lead gained in the first inning proved more than enough for them to win, for they blanked the Patriots this morning to the tune of 6 to 0.

Harris, who did the box work for the locals twirled an excellent game, allowing but four hits. Crews for the visitors was hit for a total of 18 base hits, good for six runs. The box score:

INDICTMENT RETURNED

LEXINGTON, N. C., May 30.—The Davidson county grand jury late today returned a true bill of indictment against R. T. Lambeth, prominent business man of Thomasville, N. C., and Z. L. Walter, one of the leading attorneys of this place, charging them with embezzlement, abduction and misappropriation of funds of the Peoples Bank of Thomasville, which was closed in May, 1931, following an investigation by the State bank examiner.

GOLF TOURNAMENT BEGINS

COLUMBIA, R. C., May 30.—With approximately 150 players qualifying today the annual tournament of the Carolinas Golf Association was begun.

Marlborough House, the future residence of the Prince of Wales, contains 111 rooms.

NEW YORK, May 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—Another day has passed without announcement of progress towards avoiding what the colonial secretary, Winston Churchill, speaking in the House of Commons, termed "one of the recurrent crises in the Irish situation" while from the Ulster borderland reports indicate that the situation is rapidly passing from one of a conflict with the northern and southern military engaged across the border.

A more optimistic feeling prevailed in official circles late in the day, however, and although the situation is, the difficulties of the negotiations are expected to be surmounted.

The morning cabinet meeting was preceded by a long conversation between Prime Minister Lloyd George, Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins which it was said, ended satisfactorily. But it was not followed by the government's expected statement in the House in the afternoon. After a shower of questions and vigorous hecklings Mr. Churchill said he would deal with the situation tomorrow morning.

It is expected that the Irish conference will continue during the next two days, but Mr. Griffith and Mr. Collins will return to Dublin in time for the adjournment of the Dail Eireann on June 2, which day Lloyd George plans to take a holiday. His departure being arranged for Thursday morning.

From Dublin it is reported that the prolongation of the London conference has given rise to the general hope of the success of the negotiations, and Mr. Churchill's statement is eagerly awaited. In the meantime increased political activity for the forthcoming election is evident.

YANCEYVILLE NEWS

YANCEYVILLE, May 30.—Rev. J. A. Hackney, who has been the pastor of the Baptist church for nearly four years, left this morning accompanied by his family for his new home near Morganton, N. C. There is universal regret over the departure of Mr. Hackney and his family for they had made many friends in this county. They will be greatly missed, not only in church work, but in all interests in the county.

Mrs. Mary Atkins, who died early yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Baptist church here. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. T. Sanford. Mrs. Atkins was a woman of highest Christian virtues. Her death is deeply mourned by many relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Work Hake of Kingston are visiting Mrs. Hake's mother, Mrs. Willie R. Johnston.

Paul Sutton, a student at Mars Hill has returned to his home for the summer vacation.

The Rev. J. L. Martin, pastor in charge of the Episcopal church work here conducted services at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graves and Mr. J. L. Martin, guests of Mrs. Mary Brown at Rose Hill Saturday.

Mrs. Van Work Hake, accompanied by her sister Mrs. A. H. Gwynn of Redfield, left Thursday for Winston-Salem to attend the Salem College commencement.

MEMORIAL SERVICES OF RHINE FORCES

CORLENZ, May 30.—The memorial services of the Rhine forces today were impressive. Units of the eighth infantry and of the American Legion attended services in the military chapel and from there marched to the military cemetery and placed flowers and flags on the graves.

COAL PRODUCERS HAVE AGREED ON PRICE PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Declaring that coal producers who are here in preparation for a conference with Secretary Hoover tomorrow on coal prices held a preliminary meeting today and agreed upon a price program calling for a minimum of $2.30 a ton at the mines, representatives of retail dealers' associations prepared tonight to file protests with the secretary against official approval being given any such figure. The conference has been called for a discussion with bituminous coal operators with the view of preventing an advance in prices during the strike.

Slaken American flags are being presented to British Rotary clubs as a token of Anglo-Saxon friendship.

A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC

In connection with my announcement as a candidate for the office of Superintendent of Water, Gas, and Electric Light Departments, and in reply to a number of inquiries, wish to state, that I am absolutely in favor of maintaining these departments as a Municipal enterprise.

Would also like to say that it would be my idea to endeavor to have it paid to the consumers of gas and electric lights reduced in keeping with the reduced cost of labor and materials. As the price of most other necessities has been reduced during the past year or more, it is believed that costs should be made.

Shopping with the Bride

THE Junetime bride comes into her own. It is wedding time and orange blossom time. So that her task may be easy—her pre-nuptial work reduced to the minimum—we are taking her on a tour of the leading stores of the city with the ease and comfort of a pleasurable shopping trip. Here she will be offered many practical, appropriate and valuable suggestions. Everything has been chosen with that enduring charm of distinction.

The Bride Buys Her Gown

Oh, the bride will be here
And the whole town will cheer
Even songbirds will be in carol
And the folks will admire
Her wedding attire
From this house of fine Women's Apparel.

Linens for the Bride

"And my Linen" she thought
"I'd save if I bought
At a Store that I often have been in
And saw for myself
From the things on their shelf,
'Tis a store that sells Quality Linen."

Ends Life By Pistol
At Wilcox Lake

PETERSBURG, May 29.—Daniel B. Rahilly, 47 years old and for many years a prominent man of the city, committed suicide about 8:45 o'clock last night on the beach at Wilcox Lake here, sending a bullet through his chest. No reason for his action is known.

For several years Mr. Rahilly was engaged in the automobile business, associated with his brother, W. Lee Rahilly, in wholesale jobbing business. He was married, but for some time has not lived with his wife. Surviving are two brothers, W. Lee, of this city, and James T. of Red Lake, Minn., and two sisters, Mrs. William Leslie, of Mountain Lake, N. J., and Mrs. Alexander Laist, of Hancock, Mich.

Tony, "Dead" In War
Lives for Bride As
Memorial Is Raised

NEW YORK, May 29.—Post No. 657, of the American Legion unveiled a monument yesterday afternoon at Bushwick Parkway and Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, to soldiers who died in the World War. Conspicuous among the names on the monument was Tony Pentola of Company C, 106th Infantry, of the 27th Division.

If Tony hadn't been on his honeymoon, he would have attended the ceremony. Instead, he was attending an unveiling at Prospect Park. His name, among those killed, was the third. So he's used to that sort of ceremony.

The explanation of the situation is this: During the battle at Cambrai, Pentola was wounded by shrapnel and taken by comrades to an ambulance. Just as he was about to be placed within a shell, he was rescued. Pentola's identification tag was found near the body of a soldier who had been killed. They buried the body and said it was "Private Tony Pentola." His mother received a check from the War Risk Insurance Department.

Pentola says that he is tired of battling with the War Department.

GRETNA NEWS NOTES

GRETNA, May 30.—A nice rain fell in and around Gretna last Friday afternoon which extended west 15 to 18 miles and north 10 to 12 miles, making an ideal season for planting tobacco. A great deal of tobacco was planted but the cold weather which followed has been very injurious to the tender plants just set out. About 65 to 75 per cent. of the crop has been planted in this section.

Several members of the Methodist church attended the Third Quarter Conference which was held at Providence Monday, May 29. Dr. Simpson, presiding elder, preached a splendid sermon to a large audience here Sunday night. Rev. E. C. Kilpatrick, pastor of the Gretna Methodist church, preached a very interesting and impressive sermon Sunday morning. Many were heard to say that it was the best sermon they had ever heard him preach.

Mrs. B. T. Shelton was called to Alabama several days ago on account of the illness of her son Harry and his wife.

Mrs. R. L. Owen has returned to Bristol, Va. where she will at present make her home with her parents. Mrs. Owen leaves many friends in Gretna who hate to see her return to her former home.

Miss Clara James Witcher, double graduate at R. M. I., expects to return to Gretna tomorrow (Wednesday).

The Gretna High school will close Saturday June 3. A large crowd is expected to attend the closing exercises Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. R. C. Vaden is erecting two dwellings on Washington avenue. Mr. O. M. Colbert is also erecting a brick residence on Music street which he expects to occupy as soon as it is completed.

Mr. C. C. Teatts, of Danville, spent Monday night with friends in Gretna.

Mrs. C. T. Carter and children are at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. T. Shelton on Leftwich street. They expect to spend the summer in Gretna and at Chalk Level.

Mrs. A. L. Witcher and son, Pearson, are attending the commencement exercises at R. M. I., Danville. H. R. Little and Dr. E. H. Keyser are attending the Shriners' convention at Farmville.

Mrs. G. L. Reynolds, of Afton, Kentucky, is visiting Mrs. J. T. Moore.

Mrs. F. H. Alast is spending several days with friends with friends in Danville.

Mrs. Ashworth and baby, of Ashburn, spent Sunday with Mrs. L. Serages.

MAYOR RECEIVES
LETTER FROM MAN

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 30.—Mayor H. C. Jones late today received a letter from H. Gordon Hinkle, whose resignation as city manager was declared last Friday, the day after he had left town. In which Hinkle asserted he understood the city commission had been talking with him for their former home at Abbeville, Va., as the town.

The letter which was mailed from Athens, Ga., stated that since the commission had taken action regarding Hinkle's resignation, he could consider his resignation null and void. He requested that the commission had the cooperation of the city commission, in order to have Hinkle's resignation withdrawn. He stated that he had been in the city for some time and had been working for the city commission. He stated that he had been working for the city commission for some time and had been working for the city commission for some time.

BRILLIANT METEOR IS SEEN AT ASHEVILLE, N. C.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 30.—A brilliant meteor, described by eye witnesses as about one fourth the size of the full moon, floated over this city shortly after 9 o'clock tonight and settled apparently several miles north of here. It was greenish yellow in color and had a distinct tail, which judicious reports was about two miles in length. It was visible for several seconds, having the appearance of floating rather than traveling at the speed usually attributed to such phenomena.
